

The Octamasher

By Moldover

The Octamasher is an interactive music installation

Eight unique instruments are connected to one computer brain

Anyone can make music with the friendly and intuitive interfaces

Jump in, play samples, tweak loops, interact with other people and have fun!

The Octamasher takes advanced music performance concepts and puts them directly into the hands of participants. It emphasizes the simple joy of making music with other people. With practically no learning curve to speak of, yet with the power and expressiveness of professional instruments, The Octamasher is both a beacon and a conduit for creativity, spontaneity and community.

The Octamasher has appeared at South by Southwest Festival, Art Outside, Burning Man, RedBull sponsored events (BeatRiders Break-Dance Summit, BigTune Producer Battle, SoundSessions Workshops, Ascension Art Fest) The Bergen County Teen Arts Festival, and various parties and private events around the US.
